From San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO July 25 —A conflict of authority between the military officers at the Presidio and the health officers of the city has arisen on the smallpox question The health officer charges the military with violating the health ordinance by sending smallpox patients to a place near Point Lobos, while the military reply that they make their own sanitary regulations and are not bound to obey the civil ordinances The matter will go into court

Letters from Camp McDowell Arizona July 12 say nine inches of rain fell there between the 7th and 9th inst, flooding much of the country and doing considerable damage The rain is the heaviest ever known in Arizona

A second delegation of Apache Mojaves Tonto Pinal and Coyetero Apaches evidently crowded by General Crook have come into Camp McDowell making a second representation of peaceful intentions and asking to be taken upon the reservations They did not represent all the Indians of any of the tribes, and were told that whenever they would come in a body, deliver their arms and go on the reservation and stay there they would be protected but it was useless for them to come in in straggling parties under cover of a white flag and expecting to draw rations retain their arms and return to the field as soon as the troops went back to the fort as that game had been played too often

SAN FRANCISCO July 25 —Arrived—Steamer [illegible] from San Diego

The Tribune names a comparatively large number of buildings which are now in course of construction at Olympia, denoting a fair degree of prosperity in that place

Miss Mollie H Post who personated the Goddess of Liberty at Olympia on the 4th of July has been presented with a beautiful breastpin by Columbia Engine of that place

J W Sweeney is at Seattle soliciting subscriptions to the capital stock of a company to build a telegraph line on the west side of the Sound, between Port Townsend and Seattle

The Courier of the 23d inst has the following We learn that there is not a sack of flour to be had in Olympia or Tumwater Several parties were in town this morning after the staff of life and compelled to leave without a sack This is the first time since the oldest settler arrived that such has been the case The potato and berry crop is good and what care we for bread when there is plenty of potatoes and berries

Two men named respectively Spencer and Wallace had an affray at Tacoma Mills last Monday Spencer had been at work for Wallace, and concluding to quit had gone to the latter for a settlement, when hard words were followed by blows Wallace beat Spencer over the head with a six shooter wounding him quite severely but not dangerously Wallace had a few days before gashed a sailor on the caput with a hatchet in a somewhat rough manner He is now under arrest

POLITICAL NOTES

The New York Journal of Commerce a leading Democratic paper cannot make up its mind to support Greeley with earnestness It laments that the assumed leaders have thrown away their opportunity by nominating him

Wherever the Democrats are in a majority they will nominate straight tickets and elect them Where or they are in a minority they will join hands with their Liberal Republican allies The Republicans pull the chestnuts out of the fire

The city of Brooklyn owed $8 700 000 in 1[illegible] The debt is now $[illegible] 000 000 It has been more than quadrupled by a corrupt municipal ring in little more than half a dozen years That ring centers in and about the Brooklyn Eagle, a journal that hotly supports Greeley for the Presidency

In New York Tammany chaperones Greeley in Missouri Frank Blair overshadows Schurz and Gratz Brown, in the South the Ku Klux in New England and the Hunker Democracy are the champions and managers of Greeley's campaign These elements have stamped their character upon the whole movement and determine its drift and tendencies

A Chicago dispatch of the 19th says Many liberals are making a stampede from Greeley since he became the regular Democratic candidate A real by man here offered to bet $[illegible] 000 against $[illegible]00 that Grant will be elected Real estate owners are selling [illegible] lots and houses at fair prices agreeing to take their pay when Grant is elected the taking all the chances [illegible] hundred [illegible] that it is [illegible] from [illegible]000 to 50 000 majority

The Ja[illegible] App[illegible] organ of the colored voters of San Francisco in response to the boast of a Greeley organ that colored voters cast ballots at the Fourth Ward Greeley Democratic primaries says We have ascertained from those who were at the polling places from noon until sunset that there really was a striking kind of [illegible] man called Jamaica [illegible] who the Democrats had at the polls poking fun at, and whom they probably tried to make vote 15 times but no colored voters belonging to the Fourth Ward can be found and we are assured who took the present had oath to support Greeley and Brown

The aggregate value of the crackers fireworks and torpedoes that it takes to celebrate the Fourth of July is about $1 136 [illegible]0

NEW YORK July 25 —Matamoras specials confirm the death of Juarez

A Sphere for Woman

Women are naturally good economists They are apt to understand how to make limited means go as far as possible If a man and his wife are united in the desire to get rich the man is likely to think more about earning the money, the wife will attach more importance to saving it

Almost every American earns money enough to be well off and in time to be rich If he does not become so it is in many cases, because he has no wife or because he does not take her into his counsels He is full of enterprises and makes an income If he does not prosper it is often because he does not hold on to it His wife very likely has the faculty of conservation which he lacks and if he has the shrewdness to enlist her in his plans he will find his fortune made

In Continental Europe, book keeping is a part of the education of a well taught farmer's daughter and his wife presides over the finance of the establishment In England women's aptitude in the promotion of material prosperity is too little thought of and a woman, who as a girl was untaught in respect to judicious economy, makes an expensive wife Her husband perhaps keeps her in ignorance of his finances purposely If he is prosperous she becomes accustomed to plenty of money, and ill prepared for reverses If he is not prosperous, she has to bear the pinchings of poverty without knowing how help him to avoid the pressure

Marriage would be easier and happier if young women were taught the principles of account keeping and systematic habits in respect to finances and if the young husband would take his wife into his confidence and make the income and expenditures and the first few hundred dollars a matter of common interest

A woman of average intelligence and good sense can make the fortune of a man whose love she enjoys and who will give her for the purpose a full share in the responsible control of the income of the household She will not generally be able to enter into his business plans but if she knows his income whether wages salary or current profits and his personal expenses and can thus form see what the household has to rely on she will characteristically be ready to cut the coat according to the cloth and will usually be more scrupulous than he to lay aside something every season as the beginning of their fortune

It is said that there is no help for it The Saturday Review has decided that under the transmuting power of climate the people of the United States are in course of assimilation in body and mind to the aborigin[illegible] inhabitants

A Kentucky editor says a neighbor of his is so lazy that when he works in the garden he moves about so slowly that the shade of his broad brimmed hat kills the plants

LETTER FROM BEN HOLLADAY

SUMMER HOUSE NEAR TILLAMOOK HEAD
July 21 1872

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

SIR The mail which came last night brought to me the Salem Mercury of last Saturday and the OREGONIAN of yesterday I see in the former an article, which assumes or presumes that I intend to ask the next Legislature to pass certain measures for my benefit, or in my interest or to suit my purposes Among these is a statement that work has been suspended on the railroads in Southern Oregon and on the West Side that I propose to make it appear that something must be done to help the construction of those roads along, and that this something must be done by the State that to accomplish this I want the State to guarantee to me the interest on the railroad bonds, (which the Mercury states at $770 000 per annum) at an increase, as that newspaper figures it, upon taxation of fifteen and one half mills on every dollar's worth of property in the State that I intend to have laws passed by which I can levy subsidies in the counties of Yamhill Polk, Benton, Lane, Douglas and Jackson that I intend to try to pass a Portland subsidy bill over the veto of the Governor, that I want the Republicans to oust enough Democrats from the Senate to have two-thirds of that branch, and that I am the prime mover in a movement to make East Portland the capital of the State

In the OREGONIAN of yesterday I saw an excellent and prompt refutation of what the Mercury says and for that refutation I am duly grateful You did me justice when you said I did not want the State of Oregon to pay interest on the eleven millions of railroad bonds Before I came to Oregon the Legislature had passed a bill to pay interest on one million dollars for railroad uses but I have never since I came to the State said or acted otherwise than that the State ought not to be bound for money for such use I don't propose to ask the State for a cent for any of the purposes the Mercury mentions, and I want this understood that I am here to help Oregon and not to cripple her, to make her inhabitants more prosperous and not to add to their burdens in any way When I ask any county named or counties that are not named by the Mercury to vote subsidies, it will be time enough for men or newspapers that oppose me, to talk about my doing so

I have as much interest in keeping down the rate of taxation as any man in the State, and I want to see taxes kept as low as they can be compatible with the requirements of the people themselves I am astonished that anybody should accuse me of being the prime mover or in favor of having the capital removed from Salem to East Portland or to any other place I am hardly to be convinced that anybody does believe so Such an idea has never entered my head

If gentlemen will only do me the favor to come and ask me what I think before they publish what they say I think on subjects they attach my name to, I will be very much obliged to them I expect a good deal of opposition from newspapers like the Mercury, but I hope they will give me credit for some sense, and I think the movement that paper speaks of, would indicate that I wanted to brave or to oppose public opinion, a thing I have never done and do not seek to do when it concerns public interests I expect to subserve and not to go contrary to the public sentiment, and I don't wish or propose to ask the Republican party or the Legislature for any favors or rights that they would not be willing to yield to any other citizen, whether he voted that ticket or not

As to their remarks that work is stopped on the railroad construction on either line, let me say there is no truth in it The work will go on until the rainy season renders it impossible and forces the suspension of it till next year

If there were anything more to be said to satisfy the people that I don't want to do or don't intend to do what the Mercury says of me I would say it here, but what you have said so well and what I say now, ought, I think, to cover the case

Very respectfully,
BEN HOLLADAY

SHORT PARAGRAPHS

A Capuchin monk well known in the Faubourg St. Jacques, where he fed nearly one hundred poor persons by alms collected by him in the Faubourg St Germain has just died leaving as his whole inheritance his breviary frock, cord, a volume by M Thiers, and a wallet Among his papers was found the following singular will I bequeath—1st To the Abbe Michaud, my breviary, because he does not know his own 2d to M Jules Favre, my frock, to hide his shame, 3d, to M Gambetta my cord, which will prove useful one day round his neck, 4th, to M Thiers, his own work that he may read it over again and 5th to France, my wallet, because she may shortly have occasion for one to collect alms

A man lately started a paper in Atlanta Ga After running it awhile and failing in receiving the required support he quit in disgust In his last issue he says "I have labored hard for two years and sunk over fifteen hundred dollars to establish the Reporter and now I have to say that it must go down Atlanta is the poorest town for the size of it for a newspaper in the world The people will not subscribe and the business men will not advertise There have been more newspapers failed in Atlanta than any city in the United States The merchants and people have less energy and pride in a literary way than any other people They are the most selfish people in the world They should be left in the dark, where they belong to grope their way after the almighty dollar which they worship and lumber on down to the devil where they will surely go I am done with the newspaper business in Atlanta now and forever

Hon H G Reconciliates

From the Chicago (Democrat) Times)

It is reconciliation—this Greeley business That is what Sumner calls it, and Sumner like H G always calls things by their right names That is what the Chicago Tribune calls it, and everybody knows the Tribune never errs Reconciliation is beautiful See how it goes on A Committee appointed by the Baltimore Convention calls on H G and informs him of his nomination by that body In the course of his reply he says The time will come and I trust in God the opportunity too, when the world will see that you are no less Democrats because you have pursued the course you have and that I am no less a Republican because I accept your nomination Just at this stage of the reconciliation proceedings the philosopher's voice faltered with emotion The reporter doesn't state what sort of emotion He leaves that to be inferred probably from the statement which he does make that about that time there was [illegible] laughter on the part of the Committee But for the unfortunate emotion which interrupted the flow of the philosopher's speech he would probably have proceeded with the reconciliation business something after this fashion The world will see that you are no less blacklegs pugilists keepers of dens of ill fame criminals and those who are popularly designated as roughs that you are no less lewd, ruffianly criminal and dangerous class (if I may be permitted to quote myself for once because you have made me your candidate and the world will as plainly see that I am no less a Republican because I consent to become the candidate of such a set of liars scoundrels and inherent villains.

FRIDAY MORNING JULY 26 1872

No New Position

The Herald thinks it has found a fact worth [illegible] that the OREGONIAN opposes the granting of subsidies by the State to the railroads and says we have come over to the position which the Herald has held all along and which we have heretofore censured the paper for assuming. It proceeds to state that we were willing to avail ourselves of Holladay's aid by holding out to him false pretenses and now basely desert him

All this is a gross misstatement. We take no new position in regard to State subsidies. Repeatedly during the recent canvass the OREGONIAN declared that there was no alliance between the Republican party and Mr Holladay for the latter's benefit; no understanding, express or implied, that the Republicans would do anything for him in the Legislature or elsewhere. Over and over again the OREGONIAN stated that Mr Holladay had nothing in the line of legislation for his own benefit to ask from the Assembly. We had this assurance repeatedly from himself. The Herald persistently asserted that a Democratic Legislature was necessary in order to reduce freights and fares on the railroads and to place the roads under other restrictions. We showed that the Legislature had power to do none of these things and that so far as Mr Holladay's railroad interests were concerned, it was a matter of utter indifference to him which party controlled that body. "Why," asks the Herald, 'did not the OREGONIAN during the canvass declare that it would favor no scheme of subsidy in behalf of Holladay?" The OREGONIAN did repeatedly declare that Holladay had no scheme of any sort to ask aid for, and that the Herald's assertions to the contrary were unfounded. The OREGONIAN (April 15) said 'The Republican party has given him (Mr Holladay) nothing and can give nothing. Such was its language throughout the whole canvass. Was this a holding out of false pretenses' in the hope of obtaining Holladay's aid?

Mr Holladay supported the Republican party because he preferred to do so. He was not deluded with the idea that the Legislature could give him any subsidies or that the State could guarantee the interest on his railway bonds. Nor was any such thing thought of by the Republican party. When, therefore a Democratic paper recently stated that the scheme was to have the State guarantee the interest on eleven million of bonds, that Mr Holladay would demand this and that the Republicans in the Legislature would try to give it to him the OREGONIAN said again as it has said all along, that Mr Holladay contemplated nothing of the kind that the Legislature would not entertain a thought of such a thing and that any such proposition by whomsoever made, would be opposed by the Republican press and the Republican party. It requires singular obliquity of vision, such as the Herald alone possesses to see in this statement an indication that "the OREGONIAN has materially changed its views on this subject' Doubtless the Herald is flattered by its own statement that it has brought the OREGONIAN over to its position, but self flattery was never more groundless

The Herald says we "censured" it for opposing State subsidies for the railroads, and on this ground arraigned it as an 'opponent of railroad improvement." Incorrect again. We censured it for its folly in trying to make people believe that the reduction of rates of transportation was an "issue" in the canvass, for hostility to the railroads which was manifested by its declarations that they were injuring the State and likely to impoverish the people for its efforts to break down their credit and to prevent them from selling more bonds, and for its antagonism, evinced in unnumbered other ways, to the progress of these enterprises. For its course in these respects we arraigned it as an opponent of railroad improvements in Oregon though doubtless it did not oppose the railroads per se but only because they were in hands which would not aid and abet the Democratic party

Since the above was written a letter on this subject has been received from Mr Holladay, which we print in another place. It is explicit enough and ought to satisfy anybody. It ought also to clear away much misrepresentation as to Mr Holladay's motives and to convince everybody of what many knew all along that he did not take part in the recent political campaign with a view as Democratic orators and journals asserted, of robbing the State. This letter is a re affirmance of what he said to many from the opening of the canvass that he did not intend to ask of the State a single measure of legislation

A Difference

Among the names of distinguished citizens of New York who tendered a festival to Horace Greeley, the other day, in congratulation upon his nomination at Baltimore, is that of Dr McCloskey, Catholic Archbishop of New York —Herald

It is the privilege of the Catholic Archbishop of New York to participate in politics if he wishes. It is gratifying to observe that our Democratic brethren do not object to his doing so. For it has been but a little time since the Democratic press of Oregon was speaking with great severity of a Methodist clergyman of this State who happening to be East when the Philadelphia Convention was held accepted a seat in that body and participated in its proceedings. Perhaps, however there is no change of views after all. From a Democratic stand point it is doubtless all right and proper for Dr McCloskey a Catholic Archbishop, to 'tender a festival to Greeley in congratulation upon his nomination and thus pledge all his efforts to secure Greeley's election but it is most reprehensible for Rev J F Devore a Methodist clergyman to have participated in a Convention on the opposite side. It isn't wrong at all for persons in sacred orders to dabble in politics, provided they assist the party that Greeley tells us contains the slums and immoral elements of the country. The distinction is very clear when you look at it through the bottle-green goggles of the Democratic politician

The San Francisco Republican says that a few days ago when the Finance Committee of the Democratic party called upon ex Gov Haight for his subscription toward the expenses of the campaign he positively refused to contribute a cent towards the election of Greeley and declared his intention of voting and working against him

Judge W D Sawyer of San Francisco a leading Democrat has written a letter to the San Francisco Republican in which he says he won't vote for Greeley and Brown. He says he doesn't expect to vote at all but as a rule he would sooner vote for a man that [illegible] the fighting [illegible] fight

A Temporary Change of Tone

Throughout his whole life Mr Greeley has habitually spoken of Democrats as men of [illegible]. The intolerance of his political opinions has equalled old Sam Johnson's, whose mildest reply to an opponent was 'Sir, I perceive you are a vile Whig.' Until Greeley began to court Democratic votes in a selfish way [illegible] his own elegant [illegible] he has [illegible] ally spoke of [illegible] Democrats [illegible] him [illegible] cies on the only plane [illegible]. He wants Democratic votes to [illegible] him to [illegible] a place which his ambition covets and he now in his newspaper for the first time speaks of Democrats as citizens having an interest in the welfare of our common country. Many Democrats are not disposed to support a man who can speak of them in decent language only when he wants their votes. And besides they say that if they elect him he will probably soon fall to abusing them as violently as ever and having attained the summit of his ambition will kick the Democratic ladder from beneath him scorning the base degrees by which he did ascend

Having demonstrated only last week that Greeley was a very unsuitable man for Democrats to support the East Portland Era this week (without change of editor or proprietor) comes out for Greeley with great enthusiasm and says that he possesses every qualification 'necessary to make a public officer and proper President. Last week the Era told us that to support Greeley was not to support a Democrat or Democratic principles. But it has now received new light and supports Greeley with more vim than it ever exhibited before in supporting anybody. The party of eternal principles adjusts itself readily to emergencies

Last year the assessed value of property in California was $273 [illegible]35 000 [illegible] Under an imperfect law, resembling that of Oregon property was rated at only one third its value and a great deal escaped taxation altogether. The Legislature of California at its recent session made some new enactments to secure a better assessment and equalization of values. The result is that the taxable property of the State this year foots up $660 000 000, and seven counties are not yet reported. We want reform like this in Oregon

Singular how many people there are who prefer to believe the thing that is not. Here is the Herald actually claiming California for Chappaquackery by 25,000 to 30,000 majority. Oregon will be claimed next by from [illegible] 000 to 10,000. Of course all persons who don't want to deceive themselves are satisfied that both California and Oregon will go for Grant and Wilson

A Just Outline

Nearly twenty years ago there was printed a very curious analysis of Mr Greeley's psychology. It was drawn up by John Hecker more or less a friend of Mr Greeley and is remarkable for the clear insight of his character which it reveals. Let any reader closely examine the points brought out in the following paragraphs and note how signally they have been verified by the development of Mr Greeley's traits. He is not governed by principles in morals but is driven by impulses. Discernment between good and evil is as deficient as discernment between truth and falsehood, so is discernment of character, so is power of planning, so is personal dignity and real courage. The power of concealing his thoughts is also attributed to him by Mr Hecker, and this power seems to have caused the principal omission in the outline of Mr Greeley's character namely that of his greedy ambition for just the positions for which he is constitutionally unfit. But we linger no longer here are the portions of Mr Hecker's paper referred to

Mr Greeley is sufficiently supplied with the requisites for moral appreciation and action to keep him from falling irredeemably low, but they have little or nothing to do with guiding them. He has no superfluous moral power neither is it of that kind that makes a man have any distinct purpose. Benevolence Marvelousness, Hope and Ideality—all improperly controlled—constitute his moral capital. He is quite deficient in Conscientiousness and Firmness. They have no influence over his actions. None of the moral faculties have any direct influence on his general character. They are all controlled by, or consort with, his Intellect. We must except, however Benevolence to which all his other moral faculties are subjected or for which they are neglected. This is the only moral faculty that maintains a strong though not uniform equality with the Intellect

Mr Greeley has no constitutional appreciation of Truth. He is not morally impressible. He is just as likely to take a false position as a true one and Self Esteem or Conceit rather, being the largest organ in the group of the Will the best part of his life is passed in repelling the assaults made on his motives in explaining and defending his position which he cannot do satisfactorily because he has no purpose. But he is not honest as a reformer. His judicious silence on some points contributes in a great measure to spread abroad an idea that he is honest, or rather to limit the knowledge of his dishonesty. If a Loco Foco President had signed the Fugitive Slave Bill Webster's Quarto would have been exhausted in abusing him. Every bad act of his life often exaggerated would have been held up to the public gaze—not a good deed would have been recounted. The man would have been stamped as a bad hound before the world

It is when he is off his guard and not under the influence of his general character that Mr Greeley is benevolent privately. And then being deficient in Religion Conscientiousness and Firmness he is just as likely to give to a scoundrel as to an honest man. He is a poor judge of character. He does not judge a man from a strong feeling of Right. It is a mere question of expediency from his ato [illegible] availability or unavailability. And then he often misses it. He sympathises [illegible] with the man of character and the man of no character. A coarse vulgar fellow that would without knocking enter his room walk up to him slap him familiarly on the back and call him Horace would be better received by him than a gentleman who would wait an hour till he was disengaged and then courteously accost him. While he would hardly ware apparently of the existence of the latter and would allow him to stand awkwardly behind him he would be submissive to and afraid of the former. He has no power to resist an onslaught made on him by a rough low fellow. [In a controversy] he takes every fair advantage and shows that he acts fairly and every unfair one and says nothing about it and he does this quite honestly in one sense when his organic inability to discriminate between the True and the False is considered. His capacity as a business man in the comprehensive sense of the word is quite limited. He is not a good planner though he can occasionally contrive a plan that he thinks will advance his interests

A [illegible] county correspondent says [illegible] have just returned from Finley's Soda Springs about 18 miles southeast of Lebanon and would [illegible] recommend all those who are seeking health or pleasure to give these springs a trial. They are the most efficacious mineral waters in the State for all diseases [illegible] the stomach [illegible]. Many persons are now there who have been greatly benefited by using the waters. At the present season there are hundreds of people in the mountains hunting fishing gathering berries seeking health [illegible] and enjoying themselves generally [illegible] that [illegible] Mr Finley proprietor of the springs is always ready to furnish amply the wants of both man and beast in the way of food

To Eugene and Back—Sketches [illegible] and scenery along the railroad from Portland to Eugene have been written up yet at this season of the year to an observant person there are many items of interest which can be gathered from point to point We had the pleasure of making a trip as far as Eugene during the past week and only regret that at the time we were unable to extend our tour of observation to the front. At Eugene being compelled to remain nearly a day sufficient time was afforded to itemize at some length The town has awakened since the advent of the iron horse and gives unmistakable indications of improvement and a good degree of prosperity

J B Underwood & Co have in course of construction two brick buildings two stories in height An addition is also in process of erection to the building at present occupied by that firm Brick buildings are also being built by B B Dorris A Goldsmith Jennings & McClung Killingsworth & Kinsey Mrs Renfrew and F B Dunn These buildings are situated in the business portion of the town and when completed will add very materially to the appearance of the place Several frame buildings or residences and business purposes are also under headway The work on the brick buildings has been retarded somewhat in consequence of the scarcity of bricks

Messrs Kenzie Brothers steam sash and door factory, which was set in operation last November, is kept constantly running and full of business

A large tank for the use of the railroad to supply the locomotives with water and equal in capacity to any along the line, was recently constructed directly opposite the large flouring mill The water is pumped into it by machinery driven by the mill

The Hook and Ladder Company No 1 at this place now numbers 30 active members on the roll C W Fitch is Foreman and C R Van Houten Secretary Lane Bros formerly of Portland will deliver the truck, which is in all respects a neat affair to the company within ten days when there will be a public parade by the members

Messrs Comstock and Fitch, of Eugene and W L Halsey of Portland, and others returned to the town on Monday after a two weeks fishing excursion on the McKenzie's Fork Several other parties have been and are now out doing the Hot Springs and other attractive places of summer resort

Mr J B Kincaid of the Journal will soon join a surveying party east of the mountains which has some surveying contracts and will be absent several months

Sixty five cents is being offered for wheat at Eugene The farmers, however hang tenaciously off in hopes of commanding figures more satisfactory to themselves The crops are better than the average, but the spring wheat will not yield as abundantly as in former seasons The oat crop promises good returns and prices will rule low accordingly

Morality in this town appears to be an article very well preserved. There was but one solitary inmate of the county jail, and he would not have been there had he not saw proper to perjure himself, which was the occasion of his incarceration

Burnham & Marx and C St Louis of Portland have cast their lots among the Eugene [illegible], and are engaged respectively in the merchandizing and jewelry business

The small pox scare at Eugene had died away There are no cases existing there now—in fact have been no cases—so we have been informed The family that had the disease lived five miles from the town Two of the members died but no other cases were developed outside this family

No improvements in the hotel accommodations were observed Some enterprising citizen of this town, or somewhere else, who knows how to keep a hotel should try the experiment

Junction City twelve miles north of Eugene on the road has grown from nothing to a thriving little community It now consists of over two dozen buildings A new school house to cost $2 500 will be completed in the course of a few months A drug store will shortly be opened besides several other business avocations at different periods

The railroad bridge across the Wallamet near Harrisburg, the length of which, including the trestlework and low grounds, is over two miles in length, is one of the most interesting sights along the road

Kirk, Home & Co have completed a grain warehouse with a capacity of 40 000 bushels, at Halsey Other improvements are going on there A church and other buildings are in course of construction at Shedd's Station

At Albany we "interviewed" Prof R K Warren formerly one of the educators of Portland This gentleman contemplates a visit to this city soon, for a few weeks He will return in time to open the college at Albany on the 1st of September

Salem is very quiet Every one who can spare time, has already, or soon will join the numerous parties who are or propose to rusticate at the Soda Springs, Yaquina Bay, Salmon River and other resorts for the summer months Governor Grover, Thompson of the Mercury Dr Belt, Judge Bonham, and several other persons returned during the week from a pleasure trip to one of these places The Turn Verein Society at Salem now numbers about thirty members They held their first regular meeting since the organization on Wednesday evening Amusements are scarce—festivals and concerts at [illegible] now and then to wear away the dull tedious evenings

During the brief stay we were shown through the Woolen Mills, and found some eighty operatives actively engaged The government contracts require that extra time be put in to get through with the press of orders The work on the Agricultural Works, the Catholic Church the handsome residence of E N Cooke and the Court House is going vigorously ahead The State Printer has commenced work The job will be quite heavy this year

S A Clarke goes with the Farmer Mr A L Stinson, on retiring has disposed of his interest in that paper

The Chemeketa Hotel remains without an occupant and will, in all probability continue so for some time yet It has certainly proved an "elephant" on the hands of its owners

Greeley men at Salem and up the valley are a scarce commodity and should command a premium We happened to hear of a Club being organized up that way Two men at least can be depended upon—J W Johnson and too [illegible] to her fellow over in Polk "

Fruit Thieves —We hear complaints from different parties about depredations committed in several portions of the city by fruit thieves A gentleman who resides in the upper part of the city, informs us that his yard was visited a few nights since by fruit thieves —either white men Chinamen or boys There were several apple trees of early summer varieties standing in the yard enclosure The thieves not content with stealing the apples took special pains apparently to break down the branches and mangle the trees in every way [illegible] As [illegible] was all they wanted they should certainly have been contented with taking that which [illegible] destroying the trees [illegible] the appearance of the trees it is quite probable that it was the work of some of the many [illegible] this city is infested now [illegible] be prudent and wary about committing acts of thievery and willful destruction of property

Burned to Death —We learn that as the stage was on the way from Olympia to Monticello a few days since a passenger whose name could not be ascertained leaped [illegible] while in a fit of delirium tremens and made his escape to the woods near at hand The timber was on fire not far away and the insane man made directly for the flames He was pursued but reached the fire before he could be overtaken He is said to have rushed wildly into the burning fire and miserably perished before any assistance could be rendered We have been unable to learn any more particulars of the unfortunate affair

Railroad Subscription [illegible] —[illegible] has been commenced in Justice's Court [illegible] Denny Police Judge against [illegible] to recover his subscription [illegible] the $100 000 subsidy [illegible] of the West Side Railroad The Company claim that the first twenty miles of road was completed according to the condition of the subscription [illegible] January last when the subscriptions became payable A few persons have failed to pay [illegible] that legal proceedings will be instituted against all delinquents

Large Invoice of Machines —We were surprised to see the number of [illegible] the office of the Home Shuttle Sewing Machine this week The Agent J W Trav[illegible] informed us that he had just received per steamer [illegible] eighty four of the Improved Home Shuttle Sewing Machines direct from the manufacturers We venture to say this is the largest supply received at one time by any agent in the city From which we infer The Home Shuttle is held as a favorite

THE OVATION TO SENATOR CORBETT

OVATION TO THE SENATOR AT HIS RESIDENCE BY CITIZENS OF PORTLAND—SPEECHES AND OTHER EXERCISES

In accordance with previous notice the numerous citizens and friends of Senator Corbett assembled at the Council Chamber last evening preparatory to proceeding in a body to the residence of Mr Corbett At a little after 8 o clock headed by the East Portland Brass Band a large number of citizens formed in procession and marched to the house of the Senator Along the route a number of sky rockets and fireworks were displayed On arriving at the house where a large crowd had already assembled the band discoursed a national air and Senator Corbett was introduced by Mayor Wasserman Wm Lair Hill came forward and delivered the reception speech which was as follows

Senator Corbett In behalf of your friends and neighbors I bid you welcome back to your home and give you their hearty congratulation and my own upon your safe return

It could not be other than a grateful commission to be deputed by those with whom I have long held the most pleasant personal relations to express in such feeble manner as I may their high appreciation of, and regard for, one whose public services, no less than his private virtues have won him the confidence and esteem of all who consider personal and political integrity as the first qualifications for any position of public trust

When you entered the Senate of the United States as a representative of the interests of Oregon, your conduct fell under the eye of that jealous watchfulness and severe scrutiny which happily for our republican institutions is inevitably turned upon all our public servants from the lowest to the highest, and which sooner or later brings to both virtue and vice their appropriate rewards

Conscious of the great commercial resources of our young State and yet keenly aware of the obstacles in the way of developing those resources proud of our magnificent forests and fertile fields and yet bearing with us always the feeling that ours was a sort of colonial existence as unnatural as it was unjust, warmly attached to our gorgeous landscapes of mountain stream and beautiful vale and yet believing, like an illustrious dweller in the Happy Valley of the romance that it might be better to live in free intercourse with the rest of mankind than be princes of Abyssinia, the people of Oregon had always considered themselves neglected and the feebleness of their commerce a wrong They laid it at the door of no man in particular but it was to them a wrong nevertheless, and one which demanded the active sympathy and attention of their Senators and Congressmen even if it could not be forthwith set right Thus has Oregon always been peculiarly exacting in her demands upon her servants at Washington expecting at all times as much from them as she ought to expect, and sometimes, possibly, more and thus has it been proportionately difficult for those public servants to give satisfaction As citizens of Oregon and perhaps just now better situated than yourself to judge correctly of the sentiment prevailing throughout the State we congratulate you upon having so prudently and efficiently served the public that there are few, if any—whether members of the party that elected you, or of the opposition—who express dissatisfaction with your course The Republicans say you have been true to the principles of the party and faithful to the pledges implied in your receiving the office at their hands, the Democrats admit that you have been no ungenerous opponent, while both agree that your conduct on all occasions has been governed by considerations affecting the welfare of our common country, and not by those of party expediency or personal advantage Such indorsement and approbation by an intelligent people is high praise in these times of corruption in high places—in these times when it is almost expected that wealth, and social position and commercial enterprise and local power and official patronage, will join in any unholy alliance and adopt any means howsoever corrupt, that may appear necessary to bribe the weak and bruise the strong into lending their aid and countenance to the schemes of ambitious and selfish men for personal aggrandizement and private plunder

If it be proper to mention specifically some of the measures by which Oregon has been directly benefitted and for which our people acknowledge themselves indebted to your industry and efficiency, I may call attention to the fact, that when you took your seat in the Senate the ocean mail service between here and San Francisco had been discontinued This was speedily restored The city of Portland had long been endeavoring at her own expense to remove the obstructions to the navigation of the Wallamet river Through your efforts the work was taken hold of by Congress, and that natural thoroughfare to the great Wallamet valley is now kept open by the General Government Your success in securing the establishment of an additional Customs District with a port of entry and bonded warehouse has been of incalculable benefit to our commerce, while the large appropriations for public buildings in Oregon, make us feel that we are not forgotten by the Government at Washington The appropriations to survey the public lands in Oregon were formerly, if I am correctly informed, about $30 000 Now they are $70 000 and in other respects Oregon has received proportionately greater attention from the General Government than formerly The Headquarters of the Military Department of the Columbia were in Washington Territory Oregon enjoys this honor now

I have mentioned only such matters as occur to me at the moment, and only such as are distinctly your measures, omitting many that might be named I would not forget that your colleague has also labored in many ways to advance the interests of Oregon nor do I forget that not alone in the matters I have mentioned but in all matters and upon all occasions you have given Oregon the advantage of your extensive commercial experience, and the benefit of your personal influence Our greatest need has been and is the development of our material resources the opening up of new lines of communication and securing greater facilities in the use of the old ones This is the first great want of Oregon, and until it is supplied, nothing should be allowed to hide it from the view of our representatives at the National Capitol Every section of the State demands attention, and every industry demands constant fostering care Whatever may be the statesmanship of other regions this is the true statesmanship of Oregon That you have recognized this fact, every section of the State bears testimony, and every industry furnishes grateful proof

The general election just past resulting in the triumph of the party that elected you to a place in the United States Senate has been conducted without reference to probable candidates or the place to be filled at the expiration of your term That party will again have the casting vote in the Legislature and will name your successor I trust therefore you will not deem it improper as I feel assured your numerous friends throughout the State will not if I express a sincere hope that you may find it consistent with your plans and interests to continue to serve us in the same position and that they who represent us in the Legislature [illegible] convince [illegible] expedient [illegible] whose acknowledged [illegible] much greater by long experience [illegible] and favorable acquaintance with those upon whose assistance [illegible] most important

Again I bid you welcome back to Oregon and to the society of your old friends and neighbors

On conclusion of Mr Hill's remarks Senator Corbett spoke as follows

I thank you Sir for the kind and generous sentiments just expressed and as the utterances of those you are chosen to represent on this occasion they are of peculiar value to me Nothing could touch my heart more forcibly than such a demonstration on my return from the National Capital where I have labored for the past five years for the perpetuity of our Government the advancement of the best interests of all parts of our beautiful State and for the happiness and prosperity of its people This assembling of my friends and neighbors and so many of our citizens generally assures me of their approval of my services When as since my return our people bring to me their hearts in their hands I cannot but feel that I am fully repaid for all the weary and anxious [illegible] legislation but more than that I am repaid by marks as you so kindly [illegible] of improvement that I see all around me Light Houses are reared all along our coast [illegible] located buoys mark the channels of our streams [illegible] moved public buildings erected a port of entry here established lines of steamers [illegible] plying between [illegible] our railroads are advancing with rapid strides [illegible] the Northern [illegible] West Side and we hope the [illegible] With all these roads [illegible] Portland who can doubt [illegible] future Add to the other the advantages of these two great [illegible] between the East and the West and our noble rivers and who can say our State is not assured in future of millions of inhabitants and our march onward to wealth, happiness and prosperity? Those are but few of the results that are to flow from healthy and wise legislation Were I to relate many other acts legislation and appropriations that have preserved peace with the Indians surveyed our lands established mail routes and induced immigration it would consume too much time These results however now when my Senatorial term is about expiring and I we to adjust our accounts and declare the profit or loss of the transaction are not I trust inappropriate to this genial welcome Twenty one years the 5th of March have elapsed since I entered the Columbia River Six years from that day you seated me in the Senate of the United States How faithfully I have served you it is better and [illegible] that [illegible] should say Whether the State desires my services in that capacity longer as representative in the Senate [illegible] decide If it shall do so that another can do it more wisely and better I shall most cheerfully resume my place with you [illegible] the sovereigns of the land [illegible] happy relieved of many and [illegible] responsibilities [illegible] each should feel in the service of his country and the sacred guardianship of its institutions

On conclusion of the Senator's remarks the people who had assembled were invited within where refreshments were served and agreeable intercourse continued till late in the evening when the friends of the Senator took their leave

Ably Managed —All who attended the Circuit Court yesterday were impressed with the ability with which counsel on both sides of the case of the State vs Gilfoy, managed their respective sides of the cause Messrs Durham and Ball for the prosecution handled the case in a manner which reflected credit upon them and gave assurance that the interests of the people were in safe hands, while the attorneys for defendant Messrs Northrup and Eppinger convinced every one present that although the prisoner was poor and without relatives he was provided with able defenders of his life and liberty Especially we remarked, that but seldom have we heard a more able learned or eloquent argument made in Court than that by Mr Eppinger who has lately arrived in Portland His remarks elicited the most profound attention of all present and many eyes other than those of the prisoner were suffused with tears during his speech

TRIAL OF CORNELIUS GILFOY

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT BEFORE [illegible]

THE INDICTMENT

In this case charges Cornelius Gilfoy the prisoner with the willful malicious and premeditated murder of William R Wales on the 3d day of July 18 2 in Multnomah county Oregon to which the defendant pleaded not guilty

The case came up for trial yesterday morning the State appearing by Geo H Durham District Attorney assisted by Chas A Ball Esq The defendant was brought into Court in the custody of an officer attended by his counsel Messrs Eppinger and Northrup The prisoner is a young man apparently about [illegible] years of age and [illegible] not impress [illegible] appearance as a brutal or inhuman character

Although a large number of special jurors had been summoned considerable difficulty was experienced in getting a sufficient number of qualified persons to fill the panel However at half past one o'clock the following persons having been accepted by the respective attorneys for the State and the prisoner were sworn as a jury to wit H B Brice Geo F Watkins G B Heverly J B Wyatt, F B Crandall W S Ogden J M Carter B F Porter D Simon C J Fitzgerald S Austin A C Brelsford

Mr Durham opened the case and briefly on the part of the State and Mr Eppinger on behalf of the defendant

The first witness called in behalf of the prosecution was J M Long, M D who testified in substance as follows I am a graduate of medicine was called to make an examination of the body of the deceased on the evening of July 31 and found eight wounds on his breast and left side one of these wounds was between the fifth and sixth ribs cutting the muscle and penetrating to the heart striking and cleaving the left ventricle The wounds were evidently made with a sharp two edged instrument Wales death was caused by the wound in the left ventricle of the heart

Cross-examined —My present calling is editing a newspaper It has been some three years since I was engaged in the practice of medicine Coroner Dryer called me to make the examination of the body of the deceased

After the examination of Dr Long the defendant's counsel requested that the remaining witnesses be excluded from the court room during the progress of the trial This was so ordered by the court

H J Stephenson was next called in behalf of the State He was shown a map and testified that it was a correct map of the premises and vicinity where the killing occurred

Mr Gilday testified as follows I reside on Front street opposite Thompson's boarding house I know defendant was acquainted with deceased saw them on the third of July I went across the street about six or seven o clock of that evening and sat down on the bench in front of the Brewery next to Thompson's In four or five minutes the deceased came out and sat down by me and began smoking his pipe Shortly after the prisoner came out from the alley between Thompson's and the Brewery and as he passed he said I have got a nice 4th of July and there is the son of a b—h that gave it to me He was very bloody on the face and his shirt was all covered with blood. I told him to go and change his clothes or he would be arrested Prisoner then went into the Brewery and I heard him call for a drink which was refused He then came out and coming near where witness and deceased were sitting struck at deceased with a knife Deceased rose up and encircled the prisoner with his arms and forced him back 12 or 15 feet when both fell the deceased falling on top The prisoner then worked himself out from under Wales and stabbed him four or five times while he (Gilfoy) was on his knees and then getting up on his feet stabbed him two or three times more Witness told the prisoner not to cut him that he had killed the man and he [illegible] murder

J J Thompson said My present business is keeping Thompson's boarding house on Front street Am acquainted with Gilfoy and knew the deceased Deceased was a bed maker in my house I went out on the sidewalk and saw deceased make a thrust of his hand or fist at Gilfoy He was struck over the eye and the blood flowed very freely His appearance was as bloody as if you had taken a bucket of blood and poured it on his head The witness then took the prisoner to the wash room and washed the blood off as well as he could and tried to pacify him as he seemed greatly excited The prisoner then asked the witness for the key to the baggage room and was told that deceased had it The witness next saw Gilfoy come out of the Brewery Deceased was sitting on the bench on the sidewalk Gilfoy came out of the Brewery and used the dagger on him and killed him

Cross-examined—From the time of the washing by witness of Gilfoy's face to the time of the killing was twenty or thirty minutes The first difficulty was about three quarters of an hour before the killing Gilfoy was a sort of a boarder at my house he ate and slept there He had been there three or four days the last time Wales had ejected him from the room about [illegible] o clock Gilfoy was sober up to noon of that day Gilfoy was sitting down when Wales struck him over the eye

Chinese Bob was sworn and said : I was working at Thompson's on the 3d of July don't know Gilfoy but saw him on that day Saw him untie a sack and get a knife and put the sack back under a bed

Thomas Gallagher was at Thompson's boarding house July 3d and saw Wales give the prisoner a blow and Gilfoy went to the back part of the house This was about fifteen minutes after the deceased had knocked the prisoner down on the sidewalk I saw Wales [illegible] and I [illegible] twice [illegible] twice in the [illegible] back

Mr Cochran testified that he had a [illegible] the defendant

John I Black testified substantially Am a painter know the defendant and [illegible] First saw the parties [illegible] and went toward them When I got [illegible] they fell down [illegible] go up and stabbed deceased saying I have fixed him The witness said to the bystanders Let us arrest him As the prisoner came back, he said Maybe you want some of it whereupon the witness ran away

Mr Paton and J C Murdey substantially corroborated the testimony of Mr Gilday and J R. Thompson so also did the testimony of Thos McNaly

The prosecution here rested the case

The only witnesses introduced in part of the defendant were A Turner and J M Caywood who testified that when the prisoner was brought to the jail he was [illegible] severely

The first to address the jury was C A Ball Esq on part of the State who briefly referred to the law governing such cases and then reviewed the facts as elicited in the trial He was followed by Mr Northrup and he by Mr Eppinger on behalf of the defendant Mr Durham in behalf of the State [illegible] their [illegible]

FOR EXCELLENT BRANDS OF CIGARS AND T[illegible]

To the Poet Laborer—Stephen Maybell.

BY MRS. M. M. MILLER.

Your muse is sunny faced and sweet,
 She meets you in the fairest nooks
Sequestered in some dim retreat,
 She reads with you from Nature's books.
Her soft, magnetic thrill you feel,
 You love her presence, and she woos
Your languid moods but to reveal
 The soul of Nature's veiled truths.
So mute and silent is her way
 The coarser mind can never heed.
She pleads with you to stay and stay
 And Nature's subtle page to read
To gather up the trifles sweet
 The busier eye can never see
And make the broken chains complete
 That link "finite infinity;"
The struggling mosses of the sod
 The weeds that vex the earth and curse
To hold them up and call them God
 The primal of the universe;
To probe the dreamy mystery wrought
 By insects rearing coral bars,
Then reach up with thy poet-thought
 And read the lives of all the stars;
To teach the weary, weary heart
 To rest and drink life's sweetness in,
To draw the flimsy veil apart
 That shrouds the Beautiful in Sin.
She bids you lay your toil aside
 And gladly bear her magic wand,
And in her dreamy realms abide
 'Till the dull world shall understand.
And little waifs that float unseen,
 Brushed by the careless hand away
Shall settle, wooed, in peace serene
 Upon the soul of man, and stay.

My muse, less kind, or more discreet,
 Deigns not my lonely steps to guide,
And never dares with me to meet
 Except with one or more beside.
She sent me forth amid the throng
 To toil, to trust and be betrayed,
To war with poverty and wrong
 To hate, defy and be dismayed.
I heard love's snow-white story, pale
 With sweet "Nay" in sad blissful fear,
And the dear lips that told the tale
 Turned coldly from me with a sneer;
My holy faith was rudely slain
 In doubt, and clamor and distrust,
In sobs and darkness and in pain
 I saw it buried in the dust.
My [illegible] of [illegible] she hid them all
 Like [illegible] in lone graves at rest,
Amid the crowd I saw them fall,
 Amid the scornful laugh and jest.
For one sweet drop of bliss I plead
 With all the [illegible] dews and myrrh,
"Love hath a balm for thee," she said,
 "But Sorrow is her messenger!"
She sets my face towards the west,
 Still pointing with her purple finger
Where suns are set in wild unrest
 And sable clouds do mourn and linger,
She haunts me when my soul is sad
 And bitter, filled with stings and wrongs,
She taunts me till my spirit's mad
 And madness breathes in all my songs.
I hear the moan of dull, sad seas
 That cannot fall on other ears,
And if my lays seem phantasies
 And sneers too often rhyme with tears;
If in my songs the eagle's shriek
 Doth hush the peaceful, cooing dove,
Still bear in mind I sing and seek
 The wayward truth of human love.
And deem my thoughts but storms thrown
 From the new Faith that softly gleams
Far off in truth's dim, chaos-dawn,
 And in the dust of early dreams.
We have full time; "there is no death,"
 No need of toil or doubt or tears;
[illegible] faith
 Tell thou the mystery of the spheres.

[illegible], July 23, 1872.

The N[illegible] Journal—a Roman Catholic paper published in New York City—last week pi[illegible] into the Cincinnati candidate rather [illegible]ly. We quote the Journal as follows: "[illegible] of New York, which is not [illegible] to cast its electoral vote for Mr. Greeley, the [illegible] for him is of a very singular [illegible]. In some quarters it is represented by what a distinguished New England [illegible] is reported to have said in elegant [illegible]: 'I am trying to take Greeley. I have swallowed Greeley three times and [illegible] shut; but every time he comes up [illegible] the nose!' That New Englander will, probably, succeed in keeping Greeley '[illegible].' At the South some talk of taking him 'as an emetic!' Emetics [illegible] in June are of a very queer character if held till November."

New Hampshire leads the way in an effort to pr[illegible] advertisers from abusing nature by painting up rocks and fences in the usual fantastical styles. The general statutes of the State provide that any person painting the [illegible] of any wares or occupation on fences or other private property, or on any rock or natural object, without the leave of the owner, shall be fined $10—one-half to the use of the prosecutor. New Hampshire journalists should hold a jubilee.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

THURSDAY EVENING, July 25, 1872.

Gold in New York to-day, 114½.

Portland Legal Tender rates, 87½c buying; 88½ selling.

Wheat in Liverpool, 11s 9d@12s.

Trade during the week has been moderate. Activity in harvest now prevails, and at such seasons there is always some inactivity in general business. It is yet too soon for an [illegible] from the country for goods for the fall and winter trade, consequently the movement in Dry Goods, Clothing, etc., is not extensive. We may remark the same with regard to Boots and Shoes. For staple Groceries there is steady demand, and prices generally are firm. Agricultural Implements of all kinds are shading off; demand for Threshers and other Farm Machinery is limited. A few orders have been filled during the week. In Hardware of all kinds a good healthy market prevails.

In some of our counties the harvest is now fairly beginning; in others it is at its height. The grain in some of the lower counties of the Wallamet valley is ripening before that in some of the upper ones, which is very unusual. From many places we hear complaints of scarcity of farm labor. Many farmers are unable to obtain help, and are forced to get on as best they can. The yield of Winter Wheat is very fair; we think it better than an average crop. Spring Wheat and Oats were greatly benefitted by the rain that fell last month, and the yield, though not great, will in most sections be fair. Hay, as a crop, is generally short, which is due largely to the fact that farmers allow their meadow lands to lie too long without ploughing them up. Potatoes will be much more abundant this year than for several years previously, and it may safely be said that we shall be obliged to import none. Regarding the prospective value of Wheat, we cannot say much to encourage the farmer. All facts point to a low market. We do not see how the general farmer will be able to realize more than 60 to 65c a bushel for his Wheat this year. There is immense pressure to sell in California, and not sufficient tonnage to carry away the surplus. If a ship of one thousand tons were dispatched from San Francisco every day for a whole year to come, the present surplus would still be unexhausted. Our surplus will probably amount to 2,500,000 bushels, which would load seventy-five vessels of one thousand tons each.

Domestic Produce.

WHEAT—Very limited market. During the week 350 centals were purchased on order at $1 66, for parties on the Sound. There will be no activity in the market until the new crop comes in. We cannot expect prices, when the market opens, to be above $1 50 per cental, or 90c a bushel, at highest.

OATS—Some new Oats, in small quantities, have been offered from parties up the Valley, but in too limited quantities to affect the ruling prices. For last year's crop the market is stiff and firm; quotable still at 70a75c per bushel.

FLOUR—Market dull. Orders coming in slowly, and in small quantities. There will be several orders to fill on the departure of the Victoria-Sound steamer. We still quote Standard extras at $5 75; choice country at $5 25a5 50; inferior and common at $4 50@5 per bbl.

HAY—New hay is coming in slowly; buying, $8 per ton; selling $22 50a25. Old hay, buying, $25; selling, $28a30 per ton.

HIDES—Market firm and active. Dry, 17@17½c ₩ lb; salted, 8@9c ₩ lb. Sheep pelts 10@25c apiece. Deer skins 20@25c; prices controlled entirely by quality.

WOOL—None of any consequence offering. Some very small lots arriving from Southern Oregon. We quote at 35 cents.

BACON—We have no changes to note in quotations. Demand [illegible], but no tendency to weakness in prices. Most of the Bacon, Hams and Lard in market are from the East. Clean sides quotable at 14½c; hams, Whittaker's, 17@18c; lard, 14@15c.

POTATOES—Large arrivals of Oregon new depress the market. We quote at 1@1½c ₩ lb, according to kind.

NATIONAL REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.

ADOPTED BY THE REPUBLICAN PARTY, IN CONVENTION AT PHILADELPHIA, JUNE 6, 1872.

The Republican Party of the United States assembled in National Convention in the city of Philadelphia, on the 5th and 6th days of June, 1872, again declares its faith, appeals to its history, and announces its position upon the questions before the country.

1. During the eleven years of its ascendancy it has accepted with grand courage the solemn duties of the time; has suppressed a gigantic rebellion, emancipated four millions of slaves, decreed the equal citizenship of all and established universal suffrage. Exhibiting unparalleled magnanimity, it criminally punished no man for political offenses, and has warmly welcomed all who proved their loyalty by obeying the laws and dealing justly with their neighbors. It has steadily pursued a new policy toward the Indians; the Pacific Railroad and similar vast enterprises have been generously aided and successfully conducted to completion; the public lands have been freely given to actual settlers; immigration has been protected and encouraged, and a full acknowledgment of the rights of naturalized citizens secured from European powers. In the form of National currency, it has provided for the National credit, and sustained it under the most extraordinary burdens. It has negotiated new bonds at lower rates of interest. The revenues have been carefully collected and honestly applied. Despite the annual large reductions from the rate of taxation, the public debt has been reduced during U. S. Grant's Presidency at the rate of $100,000,000 per year. A great financial crisis has been averted, and peace and plenty prevail throughout the land. Menacing foreign difficulties have been peacefully and honorably compromised, and the honor and power of the Nation kept in a high position throughout the world. This glorious record of the past is the party's best pledge for the future, and we believe that the people will not entrust the government to any party or combination of men, composed of those who chiefly have resisted every step in this beneficial progress.

2. Complete liberty and exact equality in the enjoyment of all civil, political and public rights should be established and effectually maintained throughout the Union by efficient and appropriate State and Federal legislation. Neither law nor its administration should admit of any discrimination in respect to citizens by reason of race, creed, color, or previous condition of servitude.

3. The recent amendments to the National Constitution should be cordially sustained because they are right, not merely tolerated because they are law, and should be carried out according to their spirit by appropriate legislation, the enforcement of which can be safely trusted only to the party that secured the amendments.

4. The National Government seeks to maintain an honorable peace with all nations, protecting its citizens everywhere, and sympathizing with all peoples who strive for greater liberty.

5. Any system of civil service under which the subordinate positions of the Government are considered rewards for mere party zeal, is fatally demoralizing, and we therefore favor a reform of the system, by a law which shall abolish the evils of patronage and make honesty, efficiency and fidelity the essential qualifications for public position, without practically creating a lifetenure of office.

6. We are opposed to further grants of public lands to corporations and monopolists, and demand that the National domain be set apart for free settlement by the people.

7. The annual revenue, after paying current debts, should furnish a moderate balance for the reduction of the principal of the public debt, and, except so much as may be derived from a tax on tobacco and liquors, be raised by duties on importations, which should be adjusted to aid in securing remunerative wages to laborers, and to promote the industries and growth and prosperity of the whole country.

8. We hold in undying honor the soldiers and sailors whose valor saved the Union. Their pensions are a sacred debt of the nation, and the widows and orphans of those who died for the country are entitled to the care of a generous and gratified people. We favor such additional legislation as will extend the bounty of the Government to all our soldiers and sailors who were honorably discharged, and who in the line of duty became disabled, without regard to length of service or the cause of such discharge.

9. The doctrine of Great Britain and other European powers concerning allegiance, once a subject always a subject, having at last, through the efforts of the Republican party, been abandoned, and the American idea of the right of an individual to transfer his allegiance having been accepted by European nations, it is the duty of our Government to guard with jealous care the rights of adopted citizens against the assumption of unauthorized claims by their former Government, and we urge a continued and careful encouragement and protection to voluntary emigration.

10. The franking privilege ought to be abolished and a way proposed for reductions in the rates of postage.

11. Among the questions which press for attention is that which concerns the relations of capital and labor, and the Republican party recognize the duty of shaping legislation so as to secure a full protection and ample field for capital, and for labor which creates capital, the largest opportunities and a just share of the mutual profits of these two great servants of civilization.

12. We hold that Congress and the President have only fulfilled an important duty in their measures for the suppression of violent and treasonable organizations in certain lately rebellious regions and for the protection of the ballot, and therefore they are entitled to the thanks of the Nation.

13. We denounce the repudiation of public debts, in any form or disguise, as a national crime. We witness with pride the reduction of the principal of that debt, and of the rates of interest upon the balance, and confidently expect that our excellent national currency will be perfected by a speedy resumption of specie payment.

14. The Republican party is mindful of its obligations to the loyal women of America for their noble devotion to the cause of freedom, their application for admission to further usefulness is received with satisfaction; and the honest demands of any class of citizens for additional rights should be treated with respectful consideration.

15. We heartily approve of the action of Congress in granting amnesty to those engaged in the rebellion, and rejoice in the growth of peace and fraternal feeling throughout the land.

16. The Republican party propose to respect all rights reserved by the people to themselves as carefully as the powers delegated by them to the State and Territorial governments. It disapproves of assailing constitutional laws for the purpose of removing evils by the interference with rights not surrendered by the people to either the State or National Government.

17. It is the duty of the General Government to adopt such measures as will tend to encourage American commerce and ship-building.

18. We believe that the modest patriotism, the earnest purpose, sound judgment, practical wisdom, incorruptible integrity and illustrious services of U. S. Grant have commended him to the heart of the American people, and with him at our head we start to-day on a new march to victory.

GIRARD'S SECRET.—Stephen Girard used to say in his old age: "I have always considered advertising liberally and long to be the great medium of success in business, and the prelude to wealth. And I have made it an invariable rule to advertise in dull times as well as the busiest, long experience having taught me that money thus spent is well laid out, as by continually keeping my business before the public it has secured many sales that I otherwise would have lost."

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES!

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhoea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe, and has resumed practice at his Dispensary, 623 Kearny street, corner of Commercial, San Francisco, where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him.

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible, life-destroying maladies, see that they are cured for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to DR. GIBBON, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate case, without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the faces, furred tongue, feted breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN.

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions. By inclosing Ten Dollars coin, in registered letter through the Postoffice or through Wells, Fargo & Co., a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union.

All communications strictly confidential.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with bogus sworn-to certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of these self-styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen and became too lazy too work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets; for, as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his offices of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco, Post Office Box 1,957.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1,957 ON THE LETTER.

Consultations FREE.

Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian.
